With 19 producers the property is making close to 10,000 barrels a day.

Shell's Kettler No. 6 is down 3880 feet and is being reamed. No. 8, down 3870, is near the producing stage.

Weston No. 1 of the Standard Oil company, located on West Weston street in Lomita, is drilling ahead at 2150 feet.

Standard's Fee No. 14, offsetting the Fullerton Oil company's Cotton No. 1 on the old Redondo road (west), is down 2100 feet.

The Superior Oil company is again drilling Torrance No. 13 for production. The well has produced on two occasions at a rate of about 150 barrels a day, but has sanded up each time.

Superior will have two new producers in soon—No. 22 and No. 20. Both are down more than 3800 feet. They are on the Joughlin lease.

Special Matinee For Children At Theatre Saturday

Mrs. McVey of the Torrance theatre has arranged a splendid series of special Saturday afternoon matinees for the children. The first of the series will take place next Saturday, May 3, when an elaborate program will be given for the benefit of the little ones.

Miss Bernice Elman will entertain with the violin. Bubbles Duclos, a toe dancer of Lomita, will be on the program. The Lomita high school orchestra will play, and Frederick Reese will recite.

Mrs. McVey announces that if the first matinee is a success they will be continued. In addition to the program by children there will be special films for the entertainment of the little ones.

Rebekahs Enjoy Social Meeting

About fifty Rebekahs and their friends enjoyed the social held in Civic hall last Friday evening.

Mrs. G. L. Groves, accompanied by Henry Davis, pianist, sang "One Fleeting Hour"; Mrs. Barron Beckham sang a number of popular selections; Karl Watts Gilbert's two piano solos were greatly enjoyed.

Games and dancing formed part of the evening's entertainment. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

FOUR MEN ARE BURNED AS GAS MAIN IGNITES

Four men were severely burned Sunday afternoon, when a gas leak which they were repairing on the General Petroleum corporation's pipe line in the east side of the field burst into flames. The men were N. F. Galluci, 1526 Marcelina street, Torrance, and Frank Lennon, Lee Mendoza and John Connor, of Los Angeles. The men's burns were treated at the emergency hospital, Narbonne avenue, Lomita, after which they were taken to the Golden State hospital.

Deininger Resigns As Commander of Torrance Legion

Robert J. Deininger, newly elected city trustee, Monday night resigned as commander of Bert S. Crossland post, American Legion, declaring his belief that a city trustee should hold no office in any other community organization. The resignation was reluctantly accepted and Vice-Commander J. H. Scott automatically became post commander. Dr. Deininger was given a rising vote of thanks for his service as post commander.

The post voted to buy from the California Hut organization 1000 poppies to be sold in Torrance Memorial day, the proceeds to be used on behalf of disabled veterans.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Burke, the newly appointed shop teacher, assumed his duties Monday morning. The faculty and students are elated over the fact that Mr. Burke is one of the best shop teachers in the state, coming here from the rehabilitation department of the government.

Room 5 is being converted into a beautiful new library. New oak tables, oak shelves, magazine racks and other equipment have been received. The library is the heart of the school, and every effort is being made to make it the most convenient and beautiful of the district.

The 600 new lockers which arrived this week bring the total value of equipment to $20,000, with nearly $10,000 worth of equipment yet to come.

LOMITA-TORRANCE SCOUTS IN WARM TILT FOR BASKET TITLE

A triple tie developed in the Boy Scout basketball league of the Harbor district Saturday night, when Lomita Troop No. 1 tossed away her victory and her first chance at the championship in the last quarter, Torrance No. 2 winning, 13 to 11.

The game was played in the new Redondo high school gymnasium before a crowd of 500, mostly Boy Scouts, including the Boy scout drum and bugle corps of San Pedro, which jazzed up the intermission.

The victory finds the league with three contenders for the title—Lomita No. 1, Torrance No. 2 and San Pedro No. 7 each having won seven games and lost one. Time and place of playing off finals have not been announced.

Maxey Trammel, forward, was casily the star for Lomita, scoring nine of the 11 points for the losers, while George Watson scintillated for the victors with almost as many to his credit.

At the end of the first quarter the score tied 2 to 2, tied again for the third again slipping over the winning goal in the fourth quarter after Trammel's try went wild and fell into Watson's hands directly under the basket. Eight fouls were called by Referee Karl Haney on the Torrance lads, one on Lomita.

A mystery coach for the Lomita team has been announced by Ernest Oliver, scoutmaster of that troop, and Oliver says it'll be a runaway for his boys during the finals.

S'VEVER E. MURUH TA SAW TI ; SUCCESS SPLENDID IS CLUB WOMAN'S OF PARTY BACKWARD

The backward party given by the mays and means committee of the Woman's club—Mrs. Nettie Steinhilber, chairman—was a screaming success from start to finish, screams of laughter greeting each new arrival as they entered the dining room from the kitchen, all guests being received at the back door, stopping for a moment in the kitchen to be introduced to the collector, who received their money and requested all to register their names backward. Coats, collars and neckties were worn backward by the men, while the women wore their aprons, beads or corsage bouquets on their backs.

The first part of the evening was devoted to cards; then the tables were cleared away and a program was given. First was the Highland Fling by Miss Dorothy Stevenson. Then from behind a curtain several dignified members of the club engaged in a high-kicking contest, which must have been a huge success, judging from the laughter.

The main event then took place, being the marriage of Miss Dorothy Woman's Club and Mr. Simoleon Greenback Diniro to the ideals and upbuilding of the city of Torrance.

The bridal party, consisting of the bride and her mother, attended by a matron of honor, a flower girl and a bevy of bridesmaids, were an impressive sight as they descended the stairs to the strains of "Lohengrin's" wedding march and took their places in the living room, where Mr. Diniro, attended by his father, the minister and the ring bearer, awaited them. There in the presence of many witnesses they gave their promises to uphold the ideals of the city of Torrance and to support all movements for the furthering of the good of the city, especially a new and better city hall, the paving of Carson street to "Long Beach boulevard," and the widening of Western avenue.

All through the ceremony the sobs of the parents of this fair couple and the discarded lover were heard.

The bride was attired in white, and her veil, which was worn cap style, was bound to her head by a wreath of holly leaves and berries. The veil was on train and was held by two pages. The bridesmaids and flower girls were gowned in white, with fancy caps. The bride's mother wore a gown of figured goods trimmed with purple, worn backward, and the matron of honor wore a beautiful cape over a gingham dress.

The groom was attired in brown denim overalls. His father wore a business suit, while the discarded lover wore his coat backward and pinned upon his sleeve was a card marked "Discarded." He also wore a bouquet tied with crepe.

The ring bearer bore the ring on a large cushion, to which it was pinned with a safety pin.

After the ceremony the minister announced that anyone who wished to kiss the bride could do so by subscribing to 25 shares of stock in the clubhouse.

The bride was presented with a beautiful cake, of which all afterward partook.

Bridegroom, Mayor W. H. Gilbert; bride, Hurum Reeve; bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah Campbell; matron of honor, Mrs. Veda Hanson; flower girl, Mrs. Winifred Barnard; bridesmaids, Mesdames Velma Schultz, Lillian Shriner, Marjorie Steinhilber; pages, John Young, Jr., and Edgar Reeve; ring bearer, little Martha Reeve.

Music for the evening was furnished by Helen and Jack Reeve.

Refreshments of cake, jello and whipped cream and coffee were served.

Over fifty guests were present, and a neat sum was added to the building fund.

ON HIS FEET

"Here's a man who pleads for a return to the old-fashioned chivalry. Now that's just what I advocate." Black announced, laying aside his paper. "This equal rights business has got to the point where a man no longer knows how to treat a woman as such!" "Perhaps you're right," White admitted, "but you are as guilty as anyone else. We're all just about alike." "Well, I try to be courteous, at least," Black protested, in self-defense. "Courteous!" White scoffed. "Do you ever give a woman your seat in a street car?" "Of course not," Black replied. "I never have one!"

ADDRESS ON MOVING PICTURES IS ENJOYED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

By WINIFRED BARNARD

Meetings and program of the Woman's club continue to grow better and more interesting. W. Harold Kingsley's splendid report at the last meeting, April 24, from the Business Men's association, in regard to the sale of shares for the clubhouse, was greeted with enthusiasm. Mrs. Roger Sterrett's address on motion pictures was all too short, and the selections by the double trio were a rare treat in music.

After the singing of "America the Beautiful" the president, Mrs. J. A. Young, extended greetings to the Garden visitors and members of the P. T. A. who were present. Following the reading of the minutes all business was suspended for the program. W. Harold Kingsley was presented. He reported the sale of shares for the Woman's clubhouse by the Business Men's association a success. Although he could not make a complete report at that time, because there were still some to be heard from, he was sure that the business men would go over their quota.

Mrs. Roger Sterrett captured and held her audience with her charming manner and the brilliant way in which she delivered her address. She said that motion pictures are a great factor for good or evil; they are the greatest mode of influence today. Motion pictures are the art of democracy, the product of industry. Millions of people can enjoy them. They stimulate the imagination, bringing beauty and various parts of the world to those who have not the means to travel.

Motion pictures are one of the greatest forces to international understanding; they bear a message that everyone can understand, no matter what language they speak.

Mrs. Sterrett told of the aims of the Federation of Women's Clubs and the plans before the public, through the newspapers, a selective list of pictures previewed by the motion picture department of the federation. They are only able to preview first run pictures because there are so many. "Boy of Mine" is on the selective list.

The speaker read a humorous article on censorship by Rob Wagner. She told of the work her department had, to establish the children's matinee. In cautioning one not to criticize, she spoke of the trials a theatre manager has to contend with. They have to contract for their pictures in a block of sometimes as many as forty pictures, in order to buy one or two good ones. When some of the pictures in the group cannot be shown they are a total loss to the manager. Mrs. Sterrett closed her address by reading a poem composed by herself, "Who Makes the Movies?"—a parody on "Who Killed Cock Robin?"

The double trio, consisting of Mrs. Briney, Mrs. Bath, Mrs. Shidler, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Huber and Mrs. Neelands, sang two selections, "Hark! Hark! The Lark" and "Dandelions."

The following announcements were made: A backward party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hurum Reeve, April 26; the May dance to be held Saturday, May 3, at Legion hall; a card party to be given some time in May in the Parks building, and a cake sale on the afternoon of May 3. The money derived from these affairs will go into the building fund of the club.

Mrs. Grant, chairman of ways and means for the Gardena Woman's club, gave a short talk. Mrs. Struthers, past president of the same club, brought greetings from the president, and remarked at the co-operation the men are giving in the Woman's club of Torrance in financing their building. A notice of change in the by-laws, to be voted on at the next meeting, was read. Mrs. Parks reported on her visit to the Gardena Woman's club. An announcement was made of the art exhibit and dinner, also the play, "The Charm School," to be given by the students at the high school the evening of May 2.

Tea and cakes were served by the hostesses. Over one hundred women were present. Dr. Whiting will put on the program at the next meeting.

Woman's Club Dance May 3

The Woman's club dance, to be held next Saturday evening, May 3, in American Legion hall, is sure to be a success, socially as well as financially. The committee of arrangements is working hard to put the dance over big. Do your share. The proceeds of the dance is for the benefit of the club building fund.
